Pall offers bespoke, lightweight, environment control systems filtration to protect aircraft avionics, remove contamination (particulates, gases, water) from cabin air and reduce component wear of critical systems. Pall's filtration systems combine high-efficiency contaminant removal with low delta pressure, minimizing energy consumption.

We worked closely with Nova Systems (formerly GVH Aerospace) on the development and manufacture of their aeromedical equipment, producing high-quality stretchers, floor lock assemblies, oxygen bottle racks and more with a ...
