Fluence has a track record of being the integrator of choice for ground-breaking energy storage projects. Last month, it was revealed that the US-headquartered integrator had been selected by Tilt Renewables to deliver the 100 MW / 200 MWh Latrobe Valley battery energy storage system (BESS) located south of Morwell in Victoria.

In the short term, it makes sense then to diversify or expand the base of suppliers, which IHS Markit is seeing across the system integrator landscape. System integrators are starting to sign contracts and long-term MOUs with Tier-2 suppliers, he said. "It makes sense because you don't want to be stuck with one supplier for competitive reasons.

At the same time, for system integrators to be profitable, for the industry to scale up and find replicable opportunities, there is a move towards standardisation of products and solutions. Perhaps the most obvious indication of this is the 20-foot containerised BESS becoming a standard unit from various manufacturers and integrators.
