. A THIRD GENERATION ONLINE TOOL TO FIND BROKEN ROTOR BARS AND ROTOR AIR GAP ECCENTRICITY IN INDUCTION MOTORS Breaks in squirrel cage induction motor rotor windings as well as rotor unbalance due to eccentricity have long been known to be a significant cause of motor failures. Broken rotor bars are especially likely in motors

Ver 9 o 7/14 WHAT IS PARTIAL DISCHARGE? Partial discharges (PD) are small electrical sparks that occur within the high voltage electrical insulation in stator windings, dry type transformers, and switchgear. PD occurs whenever there are small air gaps or voids in or on the surface of the insulation ...

Motor and generator stator endwinding vibration can lead to machine failure if it is not caught at an early stage. Non-metallic accelerometers are required to measure and trend this endwinding vibration due to the high voltages and high magnetic fields in the endwindings. Iris Power supplies reliable

The Iris Power Total Flux Probe (TFProbe) is a non-metallic sensor that detects the magnetic field emanated from each rotor pole in generators and synchronous motors to determine the presence and severity of failure mechanisms including out of round rotor, off center rotor, thermal imbalance of rotor poles, loose poles, stator Migration or shorted rotor turns.

The Iris Power FluxTracII-R 4208 technology is a third generation continuous on-line rotor magnetic flux monitoring system that revolutionizes the detection and alarming of the presence of shorted rotor turns in 2 and 4 pole rotors. This system collects and analyzes flux data from

. IRIS Power PDTracII 4208 System The Iris Power PDTracII 4208 system is an economical means of providing automated, continuous partial discharge (PD) measurement for motors, generators, switchgear, and dry type transformers rated up to 35 kV.
